

RADIATION ONCOLOGY

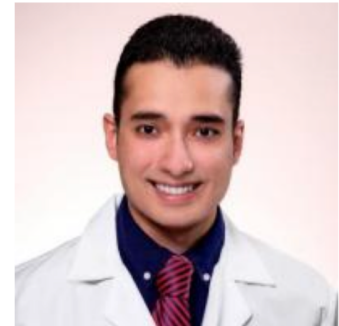

RESIDENCY UPDATES

We celebrated the graduation of Drs. Elizabeth Buss and Matthew Garrett with a bittersweet evening, as we bid farewell and welcomed our new chief residents. Dr. Garrett has joined the team of radiation oncologists at Holy Name Medical Center in New Jersey, and Dr. Buss is completing her Master's Degree in Bioethics here at Columbia. Congratulations to both! Drs. Matthew Gallitto and Kareem Rayn are excited to lead our residency program this year.

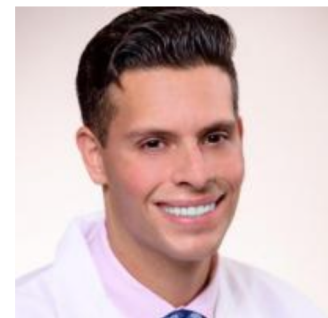

We are grateful for the leadership of our Program Director, Dr. David Horowitz, who was promoted to Associate Professor of Radiation Oncology and nominated to serve as the department candidate of the Academy of Clinical Excellence. Congrats, Dr. H!

Welcome New Residents

New Chiefs in Town!

Kareem Rayn, MD

Matthew Gallitto, MD

This past summer, Huzaiyah Mahmood MD, MPH, joined our medical residency program as a PGY-2. He completed his undergraduate studies at Vanderbilt University, and MD and MPH degrees at Tulane University.

Vidheesha Arora, MS (CAMPEP) joined our physics residency program as a PhD candidate in Medical Physics. She completed her undergraduate studies at the University of Toledo.

Please consider donating to our residency program fund here to help our residents pursue research opportunities and coursework to create the future leaders of our field!
